According to the New York Times, there are nearly 100,000 beggars in the city of New York.

The Purchasing Turnpike Committee of Madison county has purchased the College Hill and Waco pike, eight miles long, for $1,200.

The Black Hills were first settled 20 years ago, and during this period the enormous sum of $110,000,000 has been produced in gold alone. $8,235,000 was the amount of the output in 1896.

President W. W. Pigg has priced the 11½ miles of his road, the Richmond and Irvine pike, to the committee for $17,375. The Lexington pike people have made even a better proposition, offering their 11 miles to the Kentucky river for about $13,000.—Richmond Register.

The Great Council of Kentucky Improved Order of Red Men, which convened the past week at Ashland, will hold its next annual session in this city. Notwithstanding the hard times, the membership in the State has doubled during the past year.—Winchester Democrat.

Country Roads.

For one hundred years or more newspaper philosophers and political economists have vainly tried to convince the tillers of soil that they, more than any other class of People, were directly vitally pecuniarily interested in making and maintaining country highways over which heavy loads and light ones could be drawn without the expenditure of an unnecessary amount of costly strength.

The farmers studied tax rates and either would not hear or would heed any statistics whose bearing was less immediate, though not less obvious. The vast majority of rural roads continued to be stretches of dirt, made into dust by the sun, into mud by the rain, and always enforcing the truth that the distance between a farm and a market depends more on the nature of the road connecting them than on the number of miles separating them.—Wheeling Register.

Pete Gamp, aged 72 and Sally Simmons, aged 11 eloped from Corbin and were married at Jellico, Tenn. The father being opposed to the match, followed them with a rifle, but they evaded him.

Of all the despicable creatures who inhabit the earth, the rich men and women who think the opinions of the poor and humble unworthy of consideration are the worst. The most pitiable person is the poor man who thinks a rich man of greater importance than himself.—Ex.

Dismal Davis—Say boss, does yer believe in de sayin' dat money talks?

Uncle Ruben—Yes; what of it?
Dismal Davis—Yer see, I gets so lonesome walkin' around wid meself dat if yer could give me a dime fer company it'd make me feel better.—New York Tribune.

Mt. Sterling Court-Day.

There were about 500 cattle on the market. The quality was not good and sales were a little slow. A good many buyers were present, and among them were several gentlemen from Ohio who were looking for cattle and sheep. Quite a number of sheep in the market and some few hogs. Sheep sold readily and brought fair prices. The best steers on the market brought 4½ cents. Yearlings sold by the head brought at least that much; cows and heifers at from 2c. to 3c.; old oxen and scalawags 1 to 2 cents.—Mt. Sterling Advocate.

Experience

Teaches us much

The wise and prudent man profiteth by the experience of others. We have but one way to judge the future and that is by the past, and we should profit by our mistakes, and be guided by the lamp of experience. Experience teaches all that quick cash sales and small profits is the modern way of conducting a successful business. I do business in this way, which makes it to the buyers interest to see me when needing any thing in General Merchandise.
